A basket Heuristic Play (Play in the EYFS) with objects that require your tot to do something is particularly exciting for toddlers - especially if they're at that 'mimick mummy' stage and love the whole notion of pretending to cook and answer the phone. Simple ideas include playing with clothes pegs in a container, playing with objects in the bath or a bowl of water or even banging saucepans with a wooden spoon to make your own musical instruments. Treasure baskets items should be placed in a low basket, most settings use wicker baskets as they give that natural feel.

Practitioners will need to find an appropriate place for this type of play. This is an excellent book that describes in detail heuristic play and gives you ideas about how to set it up.
